Coming to iTunes May, 2017!
Enjoy and grow through Dave Anderson's podcast, The Game Changer Life!

We endeavor to make The Game Changer Life podcast the meatiest, most useful and inspiring minutes in your day. Dave will discuss principles found in his workshops, videos, and upcoming book, Unstoppable, to help you elevate your performance, and your personal life to Game Changer status: the mindset that is consistently focused, energized, passionate and high-impact.

Dave will share principles, outline steps, and conduct interviews with special guests to help you reach your personal and corporate potential. Sessions will be short, direct, inspirational and instructional. You'll want to invite colleagues, friends, clients, and family members to listen in and lift their thinking and results to an entirely different level.

I'll discuss no-nonsense principles for being more focused, energized, responsible, effective and consistent in any endeavor: business, sports, non-profits, school and more. In the past I've written and taught about four types of performers in any organization: undertakers, caretakers, playmakers and game changers, and how to create a mindset so that game changer thinking and results dominate your life. In this podcast I'll share much more on this topic!
